In 2005, FIVE Industry was officially launched. It was a company which operated behind the scenes since its creation in 1942. Directed by five powerful businessmen, FIVE became in a few years an essential firm for the economy. A success due to many activities, more or less woolly, overseen by the company.

In the 2000s, the FIVE's managers had supported financially a talented Japanese scientific named Shimpachi Hidejiro, for his research on an energy, said spiritual, which he called « Eikitsu » ou « Aura ». He developed, during more than 10 years, a nano-organism able to synchronise itself with this energy. On the 13th June 2012, Shimpachi finally managed to create the first Nano-Organism Synchronizable (NOS). A technology able to synchronise with the spiritual energy of its user, giving him overdeveloped skills, like the instant regeneration of cells, the increase of the human body's resistance or of the perception speed. Happy of this discovery, and by gratitude, he offered it to his benefactors, the FIVE managers. Unfortunately, these ones used this technology to build an image of immortal sovereigns and undertook to become the world's masters.

In the 2030s ... The world is split by many wars between nations and inside the countries. Wars generated by the overpopulation and encouraged by the FIVE group. In Europe, most of the countries are under the authority of FIVE, which causes bloody internal clashes between the FIVE's followers and the Resistance fighters.

The internal wars cause a spectacular increase of the juvenile delinquency. A lot of factories enroll kids down to 8 years old, which encourages the creation of juvenile gangs, more commonly called "Team". Teams, that media don't hesitate to recount the achievements.

Due to the decree of 2022, forbidding the armament companies to distribute their weapons freely, the weapons are coded and need identifying to use them. That obliges the delinquency to create its own war tools. That's when all a system establishes, a system govern by the silence of the biggest Teams ...
